RUNAWAY

Horse Becomes Frightened and Buggy
Smashed—Children Sustain Slight Injuries.

Tuesday morning about 8 o'clock while on their way to this city to attend school, Richard and Madison, the children of Mr. Dave Lindsay, of Lewisburg, had a narrow escape from serious injury. Owing to the repairs being made on the model road, they were forced to cross over and come in on the Lexington pike. When near the top of the Maysville hill the horse which they were driving became frightened at an object beside the road and started to run down the steep declivity at top speed. The buggy upset and Richard thrown out with great force, bruising and cutting his body considerably. Madison, who was driving the animal, held onto the reins and was dragged about a hundred feet down the hill before he was able to extricate himself. The horse continued its flight down the hill and was caught by a colored man before it reached the bottom. The buggy is a complete wreck and the horse is badly cut. Both boys were frightened considerably but aside from the slight cuts sustained were practically unhurt.

"NEARLY A LADY" AT WASHINGTON THEATER FRIDAY.

In presenting Elsie Janis in "Nearly a Lady," which comes to the Washington Theater Friday, November 19, Bosworth Incorporated will introduce a film comedy which ought to take permanent rank among the masterpieces of American humor. Honors for this signal achievement in authorship go to Elsie Janis herself as she wrote "Nearly a Lady."

Nothing funnier has been presented in years than the sensation Lord Cecil Grosvenor makes at the dinner table of the Calhoun family on their Montana ranch with nothing more nor nothing less than a fork. The absolute confusion amid which Elsie Janis as the daughter tries to master this new table tool ought to make you laugh until you cry for mercy. Add to this the perfect obliviousness of the whole situation with which old man Calhoun, like a contented old sea lion, plows through his provender in the good old-fashioned way and you will readily agree that Miss Janis has done something in the way of keen-witted farce.

These opening episodes are balanced by equally well observed and well written comedy scenes laid in the Riverside Drive parlors of fashionable New York, and the surprise at the end which brings the charming love story to a pleasing climax makes "Nearly a Lady" a big measure in both quantity and quality.

HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA TO PLAY AT LYCEUM COURSE.

The music lovers of Maysville have a treat in store for them in the opening concert of the Maysville High School orchestra. The orchestra is developing under the efficient management of Mr. C. Ed. Geisel, who also acts as director. At the present time the orchestra has more than twenty members and the prospect for several more in the near future. The orchestra will give its first public appearance in connection with one of the lecture numbers of the Maysville High School Lyceum Course, the announcement of which will be made later.

FIRST-CLASS WIRELESS STATION HERE.

Maysville has a first-class wireless station. Master Robert Hite, the son of former Fire Chief Edward Hite, has erected a wireless station at his home on West Second street, where he receives the time signals from Arlington, Va., every day and various other messages. As yet he has not a sending set, but will install one within a few weeks. When this is installed Maysville will learn the latest happenings of the world a few minutes after they occur.

42 MEMBERS ADDED

To Chamber of Commerce Tuesday—
Total of 313 Or $3,912 a Year—
Teamworkers' Luncheon Love
Feast—Every One Delighted With Result.

ORGANIZATION MEETING THURSDAY NIGHT.

The last day of the four days' whirlwind campaign for membership for the new Chamber of Commerce made a fine showing. Forty-three new members were brought in, running the total up to 313, or a total income for the organization of $3,900.

It is generally admitted that never in the history of Maysville has there been more unanimity of purpose or work than that displayed by the campaign committees in this canvass for membership for the organization. For four days, upwards of fifty busy business men have laid aside their work for the benefit of the community. The result is now history in one way, but it is merely a beginning of history in the revitalization of Maysville and its various interests.

Meeting Thursday Night.

Notices have been sent out for the first general meeting of the new organization. This meeting is for organization purposes. It will be held in the courthouse at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, the 18th inst. Not only members of the organization, but their friends and any one interested in the upbuilding of Maysville are invited. A constitution and by-laws will be adopted, the officers of the organization elected, and the plan of work for the next year adopted.

Send in Referendums.

All members are urged to send in Referendums No. 1 and No. 2 at once, nominating their choice for the different offices and making their suggestions for such work as they think the new organization should take up. Don't fail to do this. It is your chance to have a say in who the officers shall be and what work shall be done. Don't neglect it.

The luncheon meeting of the teamworkers Tuesday, where there were about forty present which was the last meeting of the campaign, was a veritable love feast. The result of the campaign was received with much enthusiasm and applause, and short talks were made by Mayor Lee, General Merz and Brown, Mr. Thomas H. Gray, Fred Thomas and Organizer Chaffee.

Mayor Lee made quite an interesting talk. He said that the need of such an organization as a Chamber of Commerce had been long felt, that frequently he had been humiliated in having strangers to the city ask where the Chamber of Commerce or Board of Trade was, when he had to admit that there was none here. He outlined some of the future results that would doubtless be brought about through the co-operation of over 200 of Maysville's representative business men working in a spirit of co-operation, not only among themselves, but with the city officials in bettering Maysville along every line. He said that with such co-operation and such backing there was nothing in reason that they might want to do which could not be done. He commended the several ladies who had joined the Chamber of Commerce.

The hope was expressed that the same spirit that then prevailed among the teamworkers, and which had made the movement a great success so far would continue after the organization was perfected, as it was the spirit—the get-together spirit—that spells success.

The result of the four days' canvass is outlined below:

CRUSHED BY FALLING POLE

Lewis Leslie Killed Instantly When Heavy Pole Fell On Him—
Death Accidental.

Tuesday afternoon about 5 o'clock, while helping to erect a pole in Pluggtown, Leslie Lewis, aged 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, was crushed to death by the falling on the pole.

Young Lewis has been helping the construction crew of the Electric Light Company in placing a string of poles to the Standard Oil works in Pluggtown.

The pole which they were working on at the time of the accident is situated a few hundred feet from the residence of Mr. Fred Zweigart, and but a short distance from the unfortunate man's home.

The crew, under the supervision of Foreman Thomas Sweet, had dug a hole for the pole and were raising it with the aid of spike-poles. When the big piece of timber was about half up one of the poles slipped and the control of the pole was lost.

Seeing the danger of the situation, Mr. Sweet shouted a warning for the men to get out of the way. All ran but Lewis, who started one way and becoming confused, ran back into the path of the falling pole and met his death. The pole fell across the head and shoulders of Lewis, mashing them badly and killing him instantly.

Dr. Leslie Brand and Dr. P. G. Snoot were called to the scene, but before they arrived life had flown. The body of the youth was removed to the home of his parents nearby.
